PAC Member Firm, Gragert Research, Expands into Washington, D.C. and Adds A Partner

CHICAGO, IL - Gragert Research, a Chicago-based research consulting firm, has announced their expansion into Washington, D.C. and the addition of a partner, Dana C. Jones. Dana will become the head of the D.C. office and the company will be re-named Gragert Jones Research, LLC.

“With Dana’s knowledge of federal and state politics and her D.C. background, we are looking forward to having her on our D.C. team. Her research and communication strategies will be instrumental in our ability to win campaigns and enhance our company’s national presence,” says Dennis Gragert, President of Gragert Jones Research.

For the past six years Dana has been with EMILY’s list, where she most recently held the position of Research Director. Dana has also been a Senior Researcher for The Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee and an aide on Capital Hill.

Dennis Gragert founded Gragert Research in 1995. The firm has become one of the leading research firms for political and business leaders across the country, with over 300 Democratic clients in 43 states. They provide customized data analysis and communication strategy through a hands-on, team-based approach. Their clients include municipal and state groups, nonprofit organizations, energy companies and Real Estate developers, to name just a few. For more information, go to www.gragertresearch.com. Watch for their new website coming soon.

About Presidents Advisory Committee (PAC)
